HADLEY GIVES SOME GOOD ADVICE

Tells Republicans Majority Will Must Rule; Predicts Union of Two Wings of The Party.

Although he did not mention the name of Theodore Roosevelt, who delivered an address here last week, former Governor Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, in a speech at the McKinley Club banquet at Detroit, Mich., Friday April 4th, replied to many charges made by the former President against the leadership of the Republican party.

"Not the tariff, the money question, the Philippines, the Panama Canal, nor conservation," he declared "caused the split in the Republican party. It was the alleged abuse of authority by those in control of the party machinery."

Governor Hadley urged the young Republicans to see to it that the chance is not again offered for a similar misuse of party machinery. As a remedy he advised changing the basis of party representation from the Southern States in Republican conventions and the election of delegates from all States by direct vote of the people.

"We should so adjust our political affairs," he said, "that never again can the charge be made, either in good faith or bad, with any hope of substantial public approval, that the will of the majority has not obtained in the nomination of candidates and declaration as to policies."

Governor Hadley declared there was little difference between the Progressive and Republican party, when the matter was carefully considered. He predicted a union of the two parties in the near future.

Electrical Weld Fence.

Welding two pieces of metal together by the old processes was at best unreliable. When the strain on the welded joint was heavy, you never know whether it was going to hold, or not. But with the use of electricity in making the weld, the fiber of the two pieces of metal are made to flow into each other and so become practically one piece. The success of this new method was recognized at once, and now you have hardly a tool or piece of machinery on your farm but what is electrically welded where there is a juncture of metals. The present state of perfection of garden and barnyard tools, mowers, reapers, binders, threshers, cultivators, kitchen utensils, dairy machinery, edge tools, chains, automobile engines and steering gears, bottoms of oil cans, frames of bicycles, etc., is made possible through electric welding. The same process produces "Pittsburgh Perfect" electrically welded wire fencing, made by the Pittsburgh Steel Company, whose advertisements are appearing regularly in this paper. "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fencing is a solid, one-piece fabric with many distinctive advantages, among them being the ease with which it is strung, the great tension to which it can be stretched because of the absolute elimination of "long" and "short" line wires, the smooth surface making wire-cuts impossible, and the neat appearance of the fence. The welded joints in "Pittsburgh Perfect" are twice as strong as the wire itself, because two wires are made into one by electricity, which also piles the galvanizing around the joints, adding greatly to the life of the fence. Modern methods of manufacture in many lines have been greatly benefited by the discovery and practice of welding by electricity.

FRIEDMANN CURE IS SUCCESSFUL

Says Milwaukee Doctor, Who is Working With Government Experts.

Louisville Evening Post. Special from Milwaukee, Wis., of April 5th, says: One of the strongest compliments yet given the Friedmann tuberculosis cure has been received by the Journal in a telegram from Dr. Thomas H. Hay, one of Wisconsin's leading physicians, now a resident of Stevens Point. The Journal a few days ago sent a telegram to Dr. Hay, who is in New York, requesting his opinion of the cure.

Dr. Hay is co-operating with Dr. Rupert Blue, of the United States Marine Hospital service, and others, in ascertaining as possible the efficiency of the cure.

His telegram to the Journal is as follows:—

"For three weeks I have been watching Friedmann's work. In all I have seen 116 cases treated, of which forty-five were lung cases. At this time, eight to twenty days after injection, all lung patients reported relief of chest pains, night sweats and temperature. Bone and joint cases show remarkable relief of pain, many of them increased motion of joint and diminished swelling."

"These results in a large number of children under five years of age naturally eliminate all question of physis effects. I am convinced at this time that Friedmann has a treatment better than we have had in the past, even should further investigation not substantiate his claims for the remedy in full."

"It is, of course, too early to develop all the possibilities of the treatment, beneficially or otherwise. While Dr. Friedmann does not claim to be able to cure apparently hopeless cases, he has exhibited his own faith in the remedy by treating all cases presented to him. The Bellevue case, which died, was injected simply as a last resort, and should be eliminated from the final count. Friedmann has not yet decided what he will do with the vaccine to make it generally available, but contemplates instructing a number of physicians from various parts of the country, who shall act as educators. It is to be hoped that the immediate good effects of the remedy shall prove permanent and progressive, which of course, time alone can demonstrate."

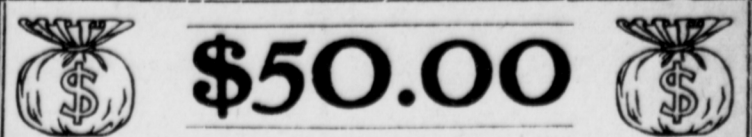

"But so far Friedmann is making good personally and professionally."

CONDITION

Of State Finances August Fifth, 1912.

At Frankfort, Kentucky, April 5, Auditor Bosworth announced the sums on hand in the various funds in the State Treasury, which follow: Balance in sinking fund, $70,643.63; school fund, $380,639.30; general expense fund, 265,288.92; balance in treasury, $716,571.85.

During the month $80,000 was taken from the sinking fund by the Sinking Fund Commissioners and placed to the credit of the general expense fund. The outstanding warrants amount to $1,935,175.43, as against $2,102,989.78 for last month. During March Treasurer Rhea called in $400,000 in outstanding warrants.

IN CASH FOR THE BEST CORN

The farmer is the backbone of the country. In order for the country to be prosperous, the farmer must be prosperous.

The banker, professional man, merchant, and mechanic, must to a large extent depend upon the farmer.

The First National Bank, has increased its assets, deposits, and surplus profit fund, more than 60 per cent in a little over two years. This success of our bank has been in a great measure due to the farmers of Knox County.

Our bank wants to show its appreciation of the farmers as well as to encourage agriculture in our county; we therefore offer the following prizes to the corn growers of Knox County:—

|-----------------------------------|---------|
| The first six best ears of corn | $25.00 |
| The second six best ears of corn | 10.00 |
| The third six best ears of corn | 5.00 |
| The fourth six best ears of corn | 4.00 |
| The fifth six best ears of corn | 3.00 |
| The sixth six best ears of corn | 2.00 |
| The seventh six best ears of corn | 1.00 |

All kinds of corn raised in Knox County this year are eligible. There will be a place reserved at the Knox County Fair, especially for this corn exhibit. We want every farmer to make an effort to win some of these prizes.

Our Mountain People.

The trial of the alleged murderers of former sheriff Ed Callahan of Breathitt County was begun at Winchester last week. The first trial of the suspected assassins took place several weeks ago and resulted in a hung jury, but since that time there have been confessions made that it is believed will clear up all mystery surrounding the murder and result in the conviction of the guilty party or parties, for there are a number of men accused of the crime either as accomplices or accessories before the killing.

These trials of the feudists of the Kentucky mountains always bring out more or less newspaper comment and is usually in an exaggerated form, neither adhering to the truth nor portraying the true condition or character of the citizens of the Kentucky mountain section. In an article appearing in Sunday's issue of the Lexington Leader purported to be an interview with a prominent citizen of Winchester relative to the mountaineers the writer describes the conditions and accounts for them in a manner which is full of common sense reasoning, and we, who have always lived in the mountains realize and appreciate the manner in which these thoughts are portrayed.

We republish a part of the article because we like it and because we know that it contains a great deal of truth. In Knox County it has been many years since there has been a semblance of a feud, yet we are all classed alike in the usual articles written by the daily papers.

"I believe it will end the feuds for all time. The country where the feud troubles have been has been a pioneer country. The tide of civilization passed by the mountains on its way westward, and conditions there have until recently been similar to the settlement of the cattle and mining districts of the West.

"The early days in the West were marked by the rule of the gun man.
The man who minded his own business could avoid trouble, but the man who wanted to borrow trouble found everybody willing to lend all they had.

"The six shooter and rifle were the only protection of life and property in some of the remote settlements.
Later the same means were used to punish claim jumping, cattle stealing or horse thief. Lynching in grave offenses was a recognized rule of procedure until the railroad brought the law.

"If the railroad, the law and the grain elevator had been delayed a few more years in the upbuilding of the West, a feudal system would undoubtedly have been established in the little frontier farms and ranches, which would have taken years to subdue.

"The trials now going on in Winchester are the beginning of the end.
My belief is that the alibi ring will ful and easily made.

be broken up by confessions from the men now under indictment. I expect them to go into court and make statements that while they believed that what they swore was true at the time they testified, they are now satisfied that these statements were not correct. If these perjury cases are brought to an end in this way the conspiracy defendants will not have a leg left to stand upon. They may be sent to prison for a term. When they return they will discover that conditions have changed; that the growing bows and girls have found other and more healthful ambitions than to avenge the death of a friend or neighbor by personal violence. There are riches, health, opportunity and success to be found in the mountains which were not there before.

"The feudist is a man of the purest Anglo-Saxon blood, held back by environment a hundred years. If he is true to type, the coming of opportunity will find him quick to grasp the modern methods of commerce and law enforcement and submission and to work for the interest alike of the individual and the community. His environment has heretofore exaggerated the honor and dignity of the former, and minimized or ignored the interest of the latter. From now on, being a normal man, he will see things in their true light."

While upon this subject it will not be amiss to state that although the leader is published in the heart of the Bluegrass it has always stood by the mountains and has upheld them at almost every opportunity.
For this, we have to thank the late lamented Samuel Roberts and we of the mountains feel keenly his loss, for he was sincere in his defense of our section.

INTERESTING LETTER

Jas. Singleton Describes Old Soldier's Home, Where He is Now Located.

Mr. Chas. D. Cole, Editor, Mountain Advocate,
Barbourville, Ky.

My Dear Sir:—

It has been my intention to write you for several weeks thinking perhaps you and the people who know me and are interested in my welfare, might want to know how I like the Soldiers Home, and Johnson City, and while I am unable to write each and every one, I wish to take this means of letting the people hear from me.

Just five weeks ago, I arrived in Johnson City on a beautiful Sunday Morning, and at once wended my way to the Old Soldiers Home, where I met with hospitality which reminded me of old Kentucky at once, and was mane to feel that I had been here before. It is the most beautiful spot I ever saw, and while I had my blues for a while, they soon wore off, after making new acquaintances, and I can truthfully say that the more I see, and the longer I stay, the better I like it. I will try in a manner to give you a description of the place, though to know it, one must see it, for its beauty, its location, and its scenery is almost unsurpassed.

There are in the reservation, I am told, about 1,000 acres, a part of this land being devoted to the farm where all sorts of vegetables and produce are raised, also a good portion being devoted to pasturage for the 80 or 100 fine cows. It is a show to anyone to see the young men milk these fine cows which represent such fine breeds as Jerseys, Holsteins, etc. The milk is attended to immediately, but the cream is not separated from the milk, all butter being bought. These cows are kept for their milk only. I am used to drinking milk at home in a glass tumbler, and when that is emptied it is hard to get another, but here they bring it to you in a soup bowl, full and running over, enough for a meal in itself, to say nothing else of the other food. The mess hall is a large stone structure standing about the middle of the grounds, and its architecture is in keeping with the other buildings.

Here about 1,200 old soldiers get their meals three times a day, and it is a show to see the old fellows head toward the mess hall at the sound of the bugle. These old fellows, and too, there are many young men of the Spanish-American war here, like myself, in poor health, take their places in the dining room, where they get plenty of good substantial food to eat, with plenty of good milk and coffee. Each has his own place at his particular table, and are waited on by young girls, who are especially kind to the old and feeble.

There are a number of fine barracks, where these veterans sleep and which are exceedingly comfortable and have every convenience.
The hospital is one of the best in the country, fully equipped and well managed by good men, and Christian citizens. The officer's quarters are in the extreme west end of the grounds and like the rest of the reservation command an excellent view. In the center, and just in front of the mess hall, is the flag staff and band stand. Every day the flag is raised in the morning, and lowered at sunset, and while it is being lowered, band plays "The Star Spangled Banner," and it is no common sight to see almost a hundred of the old time-worn veterans standing at attention, with bowed and uncovered heads.

Every Sunday afternoon, there is a sacred concert at the theatre during the winter months, but during the summer months these concerts are held in the open air in the band stand provided for them. Twice

"I Am Glad"

writes Mrs. Ethel Newlin, of Liberty Center, Ind., "that I began to take Cardiul for it has cured me, and I will never forget it."
"I cannot praise Cardui too highly for what it did for me. Before I began to take it, I was very bad color, suffered great pain and weighed only 105 pounds. Now I have a good color, do not suffer and weigh 125 lbs."

Take CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

Beware of strong, noxious, mineral drugs, that sink into your system, like lead to the bottom of a basin of water.
Cardui is purely vegetable and contains no poisonous minerals, or dangerous drugs.
It is perfectly safe and harmless, for use by old and young, and may be taken, as a tonic, for months, without any possible harmful effect. Try it.

a week there is a moving picture show of the highest type at the theatre for the amusement of the veterans. I might say here that the Government allows $10,000 per year for amusements for the Home, which is utilized in a number of ways. The base-ball park belongs to the Home, and it is here that the Appalachian League of which Johnson City is a member, play, and of course all these things are free to the inmates of the Home.
There is also a Carnegie Library which has nearly 14,000 volumes, and everyday the leading papers from the leading cities. There are also on the post, the regular hotel, church or chapel, power houses and appurtenances, a herd of eleven deer, the national cemetery, ponds, green house, etc., etc.

I have said so much in regard to the Home, now I wish to say a word or so in regard to Johnson City.

This thriving little city is situated within a mile of the Home which has from 1,500 to 2,000 people, making a total of about 12,000 people.

It has a good street car system of the electric type, one line running to the Home. Fine churches, good hotels, four public school buildings, a $50,000 High School building going up this spring and summer, a new depot, about eight miles of paved streets, the East Tennessee State Normal School, an iron furnace, a good many factories, and three railroads. It is a thriving little city, and seems to me to have a great future. There are three banks in the city, and it is my pleasure to see, most every day one of our town boys, who has charge of one of the National banks in the city in the person of Henry C. Black.

Henry takes the Courier-Journal and saves them for me every day, and it affords me a lot of pleasure to get this Kentucky newspaper and Kentucky news. There are a great many Kentuckians in Johnson City, and at the Home, so that there is really no reason why a person should get homesick except when they get together and begin to talk about Old Kentucky.

I certainly love to see some of the old soldiers back in old Knox come here to live, or rather, to spend the summer. The altitude is about 1,700 feet, and I am told it is always cold during the summer months. If some of them whom I am accustomed to see on the streets at home were here, I believe they would be so well satisfied that the only way you would see them again, is when they are on a visit home, or you would have to visit them here. I see every few days, Uncle Jeff King, and John T. Watts, both of Knox county, and who are well known to most every one there. They are getting along fine, like myself.

I must close for fear this letter becomes tedious, but will say in conclusion that I am well satisfied, but would love to have some of the old soldiers of Barbourville with me, for I am sure it would be a pleasant place for them, as well as myself.

I am sending some very fine views of the Home which will be on display at the First National Bank, in Barbourville.

Yours very resp.,
J. C. Singleton.

Do not fail to hear Rev. Chas. A. Coakwell at the Christian Church Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Gladys Stratton, who has been in Cincinnati for sometime, returned to this city Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faulkner, who have been residents of our city for quite a while, have sold out and are moving to Oklahoma.

Dr. Jas. P. Edmonds, of Middlesboro, the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, will be here next Monday April 14th.

Mrs. Lena Keasling and her sister Miss Elsie Wilson left last Sunday morning for Cincinnati where they will spend a few days visiting their sister.

J. M. McNeil a student of Union College School of Business has finished a course in book-keeping and will be connected with the Bell Telephone Co., at Middlesboro.

Miss Ida Faulkner, who has been taking a business course with Union College School of Business, has accepted a position as stenographer with J. M. Gilbert at Pineville.

If you are looking for a bargain in a good home do not fail to attend the sale of the T. J. Vermillion property next Monday. This beautiful home will be offered for sale to the highest bidder and will be sold.

Candidates are getting numerous and at present it seems that the office of jailer is most desired. Unless there is a change in the conduct of the citizens of Knox County it appears that that office will not be desirable as it would be supposed from a county in the "bloody eleventh" district.

The Stratfords, the last number of the lyceum course was given at the Union College chapel Thursday evening before a good audience and was well enjoyed. These lyceum numbers have proven all that they were claimed to be and were appreciated by all who attended them during the past season

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church were the recipients of a nice sum of money which was raised from the proceeds of a post card social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Golden last Monday evening. This will be expended on the concrete sidewalk which was constructed at the B. B. I. several months ago and upon which there is yet a large sum to be paid.

Each class in the Presbyterian S. S. for the last three months has been zealously striving to win a banner offered by the Superintendent Mr. R. W. Cole to the class contributing the largest amount during the quarter. Last Sunday morning the youngest class won the coveted banner, having contributed over $7. The collections have increased four-fold and much interest and enthusiasm have been shown throughout the time.

White Slave Lecture

This is a subject upon which the general public should be thoroughly informed. The magnitude and horror of this traffic is only dimly appreciated by the country. Prof. J. M. Meade of Kansas City will deliver an illustrated lecture on this subject at the moving picture theater next Monday evening. This will be in connection with some special features put on by the management. The proceeds of the evening, however, will go to Union College. This is an exhibition of splendid public spirit on the part of both Mr. Brown and Prof. Meade. It is hoped that the citizens will do their share. Complete program will be announced later.

WALKER

Beverly P. Walker, Jr., the young son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Walker died last Monday, April 7th after a short illness of whooping cough. The child was 7 months and 24 days old at the time of its death. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Church by the pastor Rev. A. C. Hutson Tuesday morning and the remains were laid to rest in the Mealer Cemetery. The bereaved parents have the sincere and heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in the sudden loss of their loved one.

Mid-week Prayer Meeting Services at Baptist Church

Acts VII. Afforded the subject of discussion at the regular mid-week prayer meeting of the Baptist church last Wednesday evening. Prof. G. Brittain Lytle who conducted the exercises, reading the entire chapter which outlines the history of the Christian religion from Abraham, the faithful, to the fulfillment of the promise to him in the coming of Jesus, as presented by St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, preliminary to his own defence before the Sanhedrim, and his accusations against the Jews which resulted in his being stoned to death by the mob through their conscious guilt, before he had finished his masterful plea for truth and his own life which he held as one. The latter of which only, he surrendered with a prayer upon his lips for his persecutors imitation of Jesus who at the right hand of His Father witnessed "standing up" the Christian demeanor of Stephen in his heroic adherence to Truth. The meeting was well attended a number present including Brother Davis, Hughes and Hutson, the pastor taking part in the service. Points of special interest developed by the discussion of the inspiring subject were the probable influence of St. Stephen's heroic steadfastness in the cause of Truth upon St. Paul who under the name of Paul kept the clothes of those who were engaged in the actual stoning of the martyr, the fact that Jesus wherever else resided in the scriptures as being at the right hand of the Father is spoken of as "sitting at the right hand," whereas in the vision of St. Stephen he was "standing," as if in the attitude of an interested spectator to witness the result of his own mission on earth upon his followers and other similar salient features of the chapter already noticed. After the close of the prayer meeting a short business meeting was held by the members of the church interested in enlarging the field of Sunday School work in the immediate neighborhood of Barbourville. A committee to consider the subject was appointed whose members are to report to the Pastor in the near future. All who care to attend these mid-week prayer meetings of the Baptist church in the spirit of praise and prayer to God and in search of gospel truths are welcome and especially strangers who may have occasion to be sojourning in our midst.

Assigning the Cause.
"What an extraordinary curve your horse has in the spine," said a gentleman to an Irish farmer. "Can you account for it?" "By the powers, sir, and to be sure I am able. I have heard, sir, that before the beast was my property he was backed against another horse, your honor, who beat him hollow, and I daresay it's the reason that his back never got straight again."

Circuit Court Convenes Next Monday

The April term of the Knox Circuit Court will convene in Barbourville next Monday, April 14th. So far as can be learned there are no murder cases to be tried nor any serious felony cases to be tried and only a very few misdemeanor cases. Judge Sampson returned from Williamsburg the first of this week where he had just finished up a long term of the Whitley Circuit court.

U. C. Team Beaten

The Union College baseball team were defeated last Saturday at London by the S. B. M. S. team by the score of 13 to 7. U. C. was weakened by having some of their strongest men in the lineup and played one of the raggedest games ever put up by a team from this institution. Decker started the game in the box but retired after two innings and Edwards took up the burden, but the beans had already been spilled and too large a score had been piled up to overcome.

Tonsillotomy Overdone.
The tonsil is useful in human throats, also animal throats. When a tonsil is so large as to almost fill the throat, it will be well to remove a portion of it. An adenoid, unless it is large enough to fill the breathing space at the back of the nostrils, will do no harm to let it stay and no good to remove it. Neither will colds be prevented or their cure hastened by any tonsil or adenoid operation.—Exchange.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Epigram of Tallyrand.
The duchess of Lauraguais, who was somewhat given to making poetry, could not think of a word to rhyme with coiffe. Turning to Tallyrand, who chanced to be by her side, she said: "Prince, give me a rhyme to coiffe." "Impossible, duchess," replied Tallyrand, without a moment's delay; "for that which pertains to the head of a woman has neither rhyme nor reason."

SLOGAN IS "ONE FOR EVERY ONE"

Cheerful Cry Adopted In Rowan County In 1911.

JEANETTE BELL ORIGINATOR

Practiced What She Preached on Poor Girl Who Got Behind In Her Studies on Account of Practical Blindness. Work Has Not Stopped, Either.

Last winter, when the enthusiasm of the moonlight school campaign was at its height in Rowan county, Miss Jeanette Bell, an official stenographer, decided to adopt and carry out the slogan, "One for every one." She looked about her in Moorehead, the county seat, for some person who was out of school and could not read or write. In the hotel in which she was living she discovered a pupil, Cordie Wilson, who was working as a chambermaid.

When asked about the work she had done for Cordie Wilson, Miss Bell smiled quietly and said: "It wasn't work at all. It was a pleasure, and a very real pleasure too. You see, Cordie was born in Elliott county, and when she was quite young she was almost blind. Of course she did not go to school with the other children, and when her eyes grew better she felt shy about going to school with children so much her junior. This was somewhat accentuated by the fact that she was one of those unfortunate overgrown girls that look almost twice their real age. Today, at fifteen, Cordie looks like seventeen or eighteen.

"At night when her work about the hotel was done she would come to me with her books and pencil and pad and work like a Turk. Naturally I expected it to take her some time to learn to write and read, but in six nights she could write her name easily and knew how to join all her letters into words. In this same time she had also learned to read well enough to cover the first twenty pages in her first reader. Soon after this she left the hotel and did not come to me any more."

Every vital human movement easily becomes both religious and contagious, and the moonlight school seems to prove the rule. Other counties and communities are taking up the work, and it is hoped that the whole state will realize the value of a school for out of school folks.

In 1911 Rowan county decided to strive to get a number of her schools to open their doors for adults who could not read or write. Grown people do not care for a primer or a first reader, so Rowan county launched a paper, THE ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOL MESSENGER, that the pupils might have a real live paper to read. The first column of the paper, dated Sept. 16, 1912, is as follows:

Can we win?
Win what?
Win the first night school prize.
Of course we can. Just watch us try. And watch us WIN!

We are winners, we are!

Watch us grow. Grow what? Everything but weeds.

Our district shall win!

Our division must lead!

Let's all go to school. It is good for us. It will make us young again. It will make us more useful. It may start us on the road to greatness.

All night schools in Rowan county started on Monday evening Sept. 16.

Each will try to have the largest number enrolled, the best attendance each night and the largest graduating class; also each will try to have the eldest pupil.

Rowan county has the finest building stone in the world.

Rowan county will grow the finest fruit in the world.

MORE PAPER BAG COOKERY.

Tomatoes Baked in Small Paper Bags.—Wash the tomatoes, lay them in greased paper bags. It is nice to allow a bag for each tomato and serve them in the bag. Bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes. They should be tender, without being broken. The flavor of tomatoes baked this way is so much better that it is worth trying.

Stuffed Onions.—Parboil a sufficient number of medium-sized onions for the meal, put them into cold water, drain and, when cold, remove the centers. Fill the onions with a savory stuffing or chopped ham, or nuts or bits of sausage; anything that will make a stuffing of sufficient flavor. Place in a buttered bag with a little water and butter, and bake for three-quarters of an hour. Remove from the bag to a hot vegetable dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve with the sauce from the bag poured around them.

Baked Potatoes.—Parboil for ten minutes a sufficient amount of potatoes for the family, then place in a buttered paper bag with a few tablespoonfuls of butter. Bake for half an hour, then tear open the bag, sprinkle with parsley and serve from the bag, placed on a platter. Salt should be added to the potatoes before putting them in the bag. The flavor of potatoes baked in this manner is really surprising to those who have never eaten them.

A fish steak may be stuffed and laid in a paper bag and baked, making a most elegant dish.

Liver, previously parboiled and cooked in a paper bag, would never be recognized as the same dish which we so often serve on our tables. Lay the bacon in the bag, and on these places of calf's liver, which have been well scalded in boiling water, season and fold the bag; lay on the rack in a hot oven and bake for twenty minutes or until the bag is a golden brown. Slide the bag off on a hot platter and carry to the table before opening.

Pigeons, squabs and small game are delicious baked in paper bags. Stuff wild duck, after parboiling, with a bunch of celery or an onion, and put into the buttered bag. Bake in a hot oven for twenty to thirty minutes.

Nellie Maxwell.

Friendship.

A friend advises by his whole behavior, and never condescends to particulars. Another chides away a fault; he loves it away. While he sees the other's error, he is silently conscious of it, and only the more loves truth itself, and assists his friend in loving it till the fault is expelled and gently extinguished.—Thoreau, in "Spring."

He Had Learned It.

"We are living in a grand and wondrous age," remarked a railway passenger to a stranger who occupied the seat beside him. "Inventor is rampant everywhere." "Yes," said his companion, "that's about what I observed to a witness in a lawsuit against me recently; there are more liars to the square yard now than there used to be to the acre."

RIGHT HERE IS YOUR CHANCE To Buy That Typewriter!

This is Straight-from-the-Shoulder Typewriter Talk by a Typewriter Man to the Readers of The Mountain Advocate

No other typewriter built—regardless of any claims made—is the equal of the new Fox Visible Typewriter either in material used, or in workmanship, or in the number and convenience of its special features. There are many good typewriters being built and sold, but we claim for the New Fox Visible Typewriter that it is better than the best of these, and that its automatic features combined cannot be found in any other typewriter. The New Fox is a typewriter that will meet with the approval of the most critical user. A single demonstration will convince you—we will make it at our expense, if you will permit us.

Whether you have had the use of a typewriter or not, you have paid for one many times over! Yes, sir, we mean it; every day you continue using the old, slow method of writing with a pen you are unconsciously paying for a typewriter. The farmer who cuts his grain with a scythe pays with every drop of sweat for a reaper. If you are neglectful of your wearing apparel and expose yourself unnecessarily to the rain and cold you are paying for the very things that would have kept you well and comfortable. Remember this and mark it well: You must Pay—Pay—Pay for the necessities of this life, whether you use them or not.

THIS IS THE NEW VISIBLE FOX "BETTER THAN THE BEST OF ALL OTHERS" SENT ON FREE TRIAL, Express Prepaid

Look at the illustration of our New Fox Visible Typewriter, shown above, and compare it with any other typewriter you have ever seen or used. Here is a really VISIBLE typewriter—note that the printing point is on top in plain sight, and that ten type bars rise from where they are laying and strike the platen in full view of the operator, and in direct line of vision, and that all of what you have written remains in full sight until the paper is removed from the typewriter. Compare this with those old style typewriters, that some firms are still advertising as visibles, but on which the printing point is beneath the typebars, and you have to look down into them—or between them—to see what you have written. Touch a key on the keyboard and you change the color of your writing instantly from black, blue, or purple to red. Press the Tabulator Key at the left (in front) for paragraphing, writing the complimentary closing, etc.; also for all kinds of billing. At the right (in front) is our Back Space Key. This moves the carriage backward for making corrections, or putting in punctuation. This key also enables the operator to erase a word of three letters and write one of four in its place. Press the Stencil Key shown at the left (front) for making stencils from which thousands of duplicate letters can be made. Four rows of keys reduce the shifting one-third. The right Shift Key locks automatically for writing in all caps. A positive automatic Line Lock prevents you from writing beyond a predetermined line. The ribbon travels in a "zig-zag" line—not straight across from spool to spool as on others—thus using all the ribbon and making it last three or four times as long as on other typewriters. The ribbon automatically re-winds itself from one spool to the other without any attention from the operator. Carriages are interchangeable, and run on ball bearing tracks. Platens are removable, so that both a hard and soft platen can be used on the same typewriter. Extremely light touch. No falling leaf is lighter than the touch of the Fox Typewriter. Choice of Elite, Pica, Condensed Roman, Medium Roman, or Italic Type—we carry more than three thousand special type in stock, of our own manufacture, and can furnish keyboards for any language. The Fox has an easy, almost noiseless action, is very durable, and is sent complete with cleaning outfit and metal cover with hard wood base. This is the Fox, the typewriter we manufacture—this is the typewriter that we will send to anyone anywhere in the United States on Free Trial, all express charges fully paid—no "red tape"—no delay—no obligation to buy. If purchased after trial you can pay a little down—whatever you can spare—and the balance in small monthly payments.

Reader, in all sincerity we can honestly say this proposition has never been equaled by any other typewriter company, and all we ask is that you write us TO-DAY—NOW—giving us your name and address so we can send you our catalog and write you personally about our typewriter and Free Trial offer.

REV. CHAS. SAGER SAYS
Mr. C. A. ABBOTT,
66 Ave. B., New York City.
Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biotin) in cases of pulmonary trouble. At the point I will say to you what you have not before known of; that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told me that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,
REV. CHAS. SAGER.
